

Titel: Lecture Introduction to International Relations.	Verantw.: Carey, Sabine. Banholzer, Lili Durchf.: Banholzer, Lili
Art der Veranstaltung: Vorlesung	Angeboten im: Herbstsemester 2014

Kursbeschreibung:

This module provides an introduction to international relations by giving students the basic tools and theoretical concepts necessary to analyse international politics, to understand specific historical events or contemporary issues. Key elements and terms of international relations theory will be introduced and explained and core themes will be discussed, including the role of different actors and institutions in the international system, theories of war and peace, international political economy and questions of development and transnational politics.